

Ocracoke Avian Influenza Information Session

The fall migration of waterfowl is expected to bring avian influenza to North Carolina.

Hyde County's agriculture extension agent will be at the Ocracoke Community Center
September 17th

from

10:30 AM - 11:30 AM to provide information about the avian flu, answer any questions you may have and to help register birds with the NCD&CS.

The NC Department of Agriculture & Consumer Services is requiring all poultry owners, regardless of the number of birds, to register with NCFarmID.

Birds that should be registered include: chickens, turkeys, ducks, geese, swan, dove, pigeon, and exotic birds.

Andrea Gibbs
Hyde County Ag Agent
andrea_gibbs@ncsu.edu
252.926.4488

Visit Us Online!
<http://hyde.ces.ncsu.edu>
Facebook:
Hyde County Cooperative
Extension

