

Agricultural Medicine: Occupational and Environmental Health for Rural Health Professionals

- provides basic information and skills to enable rural health care professionals and health and safety educators to learn the fundamentals and practical aspects of diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of occupational illnesses and injuries in the farm community.
- Successful completion of this course allows health care participants to join AgriSafe® as a Provider Member. AgriSafe® Provider benefits include clinical resources, technical assistance, continuing education, and use of the trademarked name AgriSafe® in promoting agricultural health services. AgriSafe membership is also available to individuals and organizations.
- is appropriate for nurses, nurse practitioners, farm worker health outreach staff, physicians, physician assistants, allied health professionals, veterinarians, emergency medical technicians, health educators, Cooperative Extension agents, occupational safety professionals and others interested in agricultural safety and health.

Training is provided jointly by faculty of Iowa's Center for Agricultural Safety and Health (I-CASH), the North Carolina Agromedicine Institute, and other skilled agricultural health and safety professionals from across NC and beyond.

Course Directors are Kelley Donham, MS, DVM, DACVPM, Professor and Associate Head for Agricultural Medicine, Department of Occupational and Environmental Health, University of Iowa College of Public Health, and I-CASH Director AND Robin Tutor-Marcom, MPH, OTR, Interim Director, NC Agromedicine Institute, AgriSafe of North Carolina Project Manager.

Session 1: January 20, 2011 (face-to-face) Location: City Hotel & Bistro, Greenville, NC
Sessions 2-7: February - March, 2012 (distance learning)
Session 8: April 19 and 20, 2011 (face-to-face) Location: City Hotel & Bistro, Greenville, NC

Early Bird Registration until January 4th:

Sessions 1-7: $350 (includes all sessions)
Session 8: $350

Registration fees include course materials, breakfast and lunch at face-to-face sessions.

For more information, see attached brochure and/or contact:

Division of Continuing Studies
East Carolina University
252.328.9198 or 800.767.9111 (long distance only)
www.cpe.ecu.edu

Robin Tutor-Marcom, MPH, OTR
NC Agromedicine Institute
tutorr@ecu.edu
919.880.4225 or 252.744.1045