

Upcoming events at the Ocracoke Preservation Society:

Friday, April 25 from 3 till it's over (no later than 5) a fundraising auction will be held on the OPS Museum front lawn. Lots of vintage "The State" magazines, some old post cards and other treasures will be available to bid on. Kitty Mitchell will also be selling student artwork to help fund the arts program at Ocracoke School. Come out and join us!

Wednesday, April 30 from 4-6 we are hosting an opening featuring the family of Annie Lou Gaskill Gaskins. Come join us at the OPS Museum to learn about Annie Lou's history and family...stories and laughter are guaranteed! Snacks will be provided.

Monday, May 5 from 3:30 till 5 the OPS Museum is celebrating the opening of our exhibit featuring costumes from past productions of the three act musical, "A Tale of Blackbeard." The current cast of Village Girls and Pirates will be on hand, accompanied by musical director, Julie Howard, to entertain us during the opening. This exhibit of costumes will only be on display for the month of May. Pirate food and non-alcoholic grog will be served.
